Editor's Take

A Make or Mar Year!

2015 will make or mar Nigeria. All manners of politicians are on the prowl. Ex-convicts, criminals, fools and vagabonds. They all want my and your vote. Living and behaving the way we do is a short sighted way to live. Tomorrow counts, but it appears no one cares. Entitlement mentality, the shortest way to doom, is in the air. Who will pull us away from the brink? Make your vote count as Dr. Joseph Ofungwu made his ideas count. He has produced a masterpiece, once more demonstrating we are a great people. Given the right environment, we can have it all: corruption-free society, world-class paved roads and expressways, citadels of learning, hospitals, sea and airports, armed forces we can be proud of and, well adjusted citizenry. These cannot spring from dark space, dark minds, dark thinking. We live in a knowledge age, and a society that ignores, devalues, castrates, enfeebles, strangulates, poisons, disdains, rejects, denies, disavows and generally treats knowledge and honour with levity, imperils its very existence. Nigeria, make the book count and though shall live. Remember, he who lives by the sword, dies by the sword, and he who lives by the book lives forever. As Dr. Joseph Ofungwu has shown, Nigeria is destined for greatness. So I say, let's march, for the book. Read!

Featured Book

Dr. Ofungwu does Nigeria proud with his Statistical Applications for Environmental Analysis and Risk Assessment. The book was featured amongst the Best Books of 2014. Wiley did not believe a Nigerian wrote the book. Hey Wiley JO hails from Enugu State!

The Death Of The Last Publishing House In Nigeria

It is with gratitude to God and the will of the Nigerian people that I announce the death of the last publishing house in Nigeria. She is survived by four children (the enterprising Chinese pirate, the uneducated Nigerian intellectual thief, an intelligent Indian printing press, the government under-funded NCC) and two grandchildren (books from UK sales bonanzas, and books donated by Americans to Ojuelegba-under-bridge).

Statistical Applications for Environmental Analysis and Risk Assessment guides readers through real-world situations and the best statistical methods used to determine the nature and extent of the problem, evaluate the potential human health and ecological risks, and design and implement remedial systems as necessary. Featuring numerous worked examples using actual data and “ready-made” software scripts, Statistical Applications for Environmental Analysis and Risk Assessment also includes Software scripts using the high-powered statistical software system, R, and supplemented by USEPA’s ProUCL and USDOE’s VSP software packages, which are all freely available.

The Laws Of Lifetime Growth

Do you want a bigger sense of purpose, performance, contribution, confidence, and the sense of a bigger future? Follow these 10 laws:

Law One: Always make your future bigger than your past.

Law Two: Always make your learning greater than your experience.

Law Three Always make your contribution bigger than your reward.

Law Four Always make your performance

Law Six: Always make your enjoyment greater than your effort.

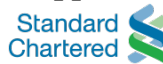

Law Seven: Always make your cooperation greater than your status.

Law Eight: Always make your confidence greater than your comfort.

Law Nine: Always make your purpose greater than your money.

Law Ten Always make your questions bigger than your answers.
